Old Timer Passes On

Joe Freedlund was a builder — a planner and a doer! Joe's early training with his Swedish father was complemented by studies at Georgia Tech. His professional career as an employee reached its height as Foreman with George A. Fuller Co., on the Aetna Life Building in Hartford, which, at the time, covered more space than any other building in Connecticut.

Supervisory capacities on other large buildings throughout the eastern part of the U. S. with Fuller further enhanced his professional experience.

Following a short farming career in the Glades, in the early thirties, Joe built the first bean belts on the lake, and installed many of the large pumping plants still functioning.

The first FFA homes built in the area were by Mr. Freedlund, and his marks of professional accomplishment are found throughout the whole Glades area.

Joe's civic and community interests found early outlet with charter membership and a directorship of RDB; he was a charter member and a Past President of Rotary; the Masonic Lodge of Belle Glade was the inspiration of work and companionship; his active participation was always available to any community project.

Eight grandchildren, mothered by two daughters, were a source of much joy and satisfaction to Joe in his long illness, especially before the ravages of the fatal disease brought the last days to this pioneer citizen.

Joe's association with Morris Hart, Edith's brother, and her father H. H. Hart, brought to the Glades another pioneering spirit and ability that substantially contributed to the Glades' progress from "hamper-on-shoulder" bean days to the present-day miracles of agricultural production.

The Community has lost a First Citizen, a provident father and family head, a sincere friend, with honesty and integrity the guiding lights of a useful life!

Unionism And Violence Is A New Glades Dish!

What originally appeared to be a normal strike without interruption to production of sugar at the Florida Sugar Co.'s plant east of here, has brought both local and other peace officers investigating tire-cutting and auto burning.

A hearing by the National Labor Relations Board at the Army on December 4th resulting from charges of unfair labor practices is scheduled. A secret ballot on the question of union or not, has been set down but the ballot date has not been announced.

Friday a number of the employees failed to show up for their shifts, and an announcement was made that a strike had been called. Picketing began, and has continued to press time.

A professed union organizer, Miss Rachel Guajardo, has preferred charges against A. P. George, a sugar company executive with causing her to strain her ankle getting out of his car's path. She also charges that he caused A. Rigoberto some injuries. Neither reports examination by a doctor, although reportedly they were directed by a Deputy Sheriff to go to a doctor.

The police have complaints about tires being cut off a vehicle, and they have in hand evidence concerning two car fires on autos parked on N. W. Avenue D in Belle Glade and belonging to Fla. Sugar workers.

Miss Guajardo disclaims any knowledge of the tire slashings or the car burning, or any other illegal maneuvers.

The Company reports that serious interruption to the production has not so far been caused.

"Please... Don't Listen to Castro!"

LITTLE MISS KATHY CAMERON doesn't like the Cuba poster, hanging in the Herald's office. In a recent visit she squealed and "talked" to Grandma Zuber Bus excitedly. She knows there's something wrong!

UNCLE DAN from DOOLIE says:

Dear Mister Editor:
 Back when I was about 10 year old and the first automobiles was showing up in these parts, I recollect me and my Grandpa watching a feller trying to crank one of the things. "He'll never get the fool thing to go," said Grandpa. After a while, when the feller got it going, Grandpa watched it roll off in a cloud of dust and allowed, "He got it started but he'll never get it the daburned thing stopped."

Grandpa was a true prophet, Mister Editor. We ain't got it stopped, and today the automobile is choking the big cities clear back into the bushes. You got branch banks, branch grocery stores, branch everything built out in the country from the cities. It's on account of automobile traffic running everything and everybody back to the woods. I see where some cities is barring automobiles from whole sections of the city. It might be the dawn of a new day for things. And it could help a lot of people's health to walk six or eight blocks to the business section. It's got to be a feller, if he can't park his two front wheels inside the store door, sets down and writes a complaint to his Congressman.

What brings all this to mind is a piece I was reading yesterday about a new 3-40, 3-wheel jet car which has been put on display in Los Angeles. This car, the piece said, was designed to go 500 mile a hour and they aim to try it out in Utah and break the old speed limit of 394 mile a hour set by a car 15 year ago. Personal, I think they already got some of these cars around here. They pass me going back and forth to town so fast I can't count the wheels or figger the weight, but I'm almost shore it's one of them jet jobs.

Gitting back to things that is traveling a little slower, the papers is full of items about a big upheaval in education all over the country. One college professor, for instance, is predicting that in another 10 year colleges will be teaching without books. That's when you'll really see some ball teams, Mister Editor. On the other hand, I see where the President of Yale says that, actual, he ain't got but three problems, salaries for his professors, football for his old grads, and parking space for his students.

On the serious side, I see where a feller from Alabama has wrote up Senator John Sparkman wanting the Department of Agriculture to experiment with a vine that'll grow square tomatoes, so the slices will fit pieces of loaf bread. I wouldn't be surprised to see the Congress appropriate $100,000 for this project come the next session. It seems to me it would be cheaper for the taxpayers if the government would just make the proper arrangements to keep this feller supplied during the tomato season with round loaf bread from a Government bakery.
 Yours truly,
 Uncle Dan

"Reports From Lands Of Decision"

Theme Of WSCS Meeting Program

"Reports From Lands Of Decision" was the theme of the program presented by the Assembly Circle at the General Meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service on Tuesday afternoon, November 27. The reports gave an account of the church in education, medicine and other fields as well as religion, in the countries of Southern Rhodesia, Argentina, Pakistan, and China in Dispersal. Those taking part in the program were Mrs. H. C. Post, Mrs. E. M. Van Landingham, Mrs. R. W. Bussey, and Mrs. F. C. Dooley.

The business meeting was presided over by the President, Mrs. Robert Abel, who thanked all those who had worked so diligently to make the W. S. C. S. Bazaar and Snuggles sale successful. The members of the Society brought gifts to be sent to the Mental Hospital at Hollywood for Christmas giving. The group is also planning to serve the dinner for the Eastern Star on December 30.

There has been a change in the date of the next General Meeting, which will be held on December 18th, at 8:00 p. m.

Jane Young Takes Holiday In Geneva

(Friends of Jane Young will be interested in this note, received by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Young, telling of a holiday in Geneva and meeting Rubenstein.)

We had all Saint's Day off which was Thursday after Halloween so after classes Mary Ann and I went to Geneva for a Rubenstein concert. We arrived about 3 p. m. and tried to get tickets—all sold out but standing room tickets would be for sale at the theater. We went to the theatre to find out what time the box office opened. Going in the only open door we could find, no one was around but we heard steps. The artist himself appeared. While waiting for a cab, he learned that we were Americans and had come from Fribourg to hear him. He inquired about seats and found they were adding a row to the stage. The doorman didn't know if we could get even those. We got them, with aid of Rubenstein himself and sat on the stage to hear the concert.

Then we went to Chamonix (French town across the border from Switzerland) and then by cable car to about one-half mile from Mt. Blanc. Met two Canadian girls with a car who drove us back to Geneva.

I shopped for my ski outfit and am now taking ski lessons. Plan to go to a ski lodge for the Christmas holidays. Will call you Christmas Eve or Christmas Day.

Last Sunday after attending the Church of Christ at Bern, (Switzerland) I was invited to the home of R. J. Petty, Undersecretary of the United States Embassy. Had a wonderful dinner and day. We took a ferry over the river and walked miles in the snow.

Mrs. John Wesley Miller Feted At Tea

One of the loveliest social events of the fall season was the tea given by Mrs. Jack Miller at her home on South Main St., Saturday afternoon for her new daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Wesley Miller.

In the receiving line with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Raymond Crosby of Pahokee and Mrs. Miller.

The table attractively laid with a brown taffeta cloth with gathered skirt was enhanced with silver tea and coffee service. The centerpiece featured Talisman tea roses, variegated myrtle, frosted gold grapes in double gold cherubs. Pouring were Mrs. Roy Brown, Mrs. J. Allen Baker and Mrs. Al Harris.

Beautiful floral arrangements were used about the room. Talisman tea roses, Golden Rapunzel roses and variegated myrtle grace the coffee table & on the TV was a full arrangement of Talisman gladioli, bronze Fijians, fall pom-poms beauty berries and cattails. Green grapes and ivy flanked by anti-

Mrs. G. A. White Rites Held Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Allen, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Williams of South Bay attended services for Mrs. Allen's mother, Mrs. G. A. White, 78, of Ashburn, Ga.

Mrs. White passed away suddenly at the Ashburn Hospital Nov. 18 of a heart attack. Many friends in Belle Glade will remember Mrs. White as she visited her daughter often and attended services at the Everglades Presbyterian Church.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist Church, Sycamore, Ga., with burial in the Ashburn Cemetery. Hurricane lamps decorated the mantle.

Many friends called during the afternoon from 2 to 5 p. m. to meet the lovely new bride. Mrs. Miller was assisted by Mrs. Johnny Robinson.

Baby Shower Given Mrs. Philip Dulany

A pink and white theme was used in decorations for the stork shower complimenting Mrs. Philip Dulany, in the ladies parlor of Community Methodist Church.

Refreshments of punch and individual white frosted cakes (topped with pink booties) were served from the refreshment table covered with a white linen cloth. Pink and blue flowers enlivened the punch bowl.

Games were played and prizes awarded. The honoree was showered with many lovely and useful gifts, which she opened, and they were displayed on the gift table. An unusual gift worn by Mrs. Dulany was a lovely corage made of pink and blue baby socks, which looked like roses.

Among the 26 guests present were Mrs. Calvin Shive of Pahokee, grandmother of Philip Dulany.

Hostesses were Mrs. F. C. Schoenfeld, Mrs. J. A. Ponder, Mrs. Bill Schoenfeld, Mrs. Clara Kidder and Mrs. Walter Bailey.

Watch Middle Line Of Hillsboro Dike If You Have A Gun

Hunters are cautioned that the Hillsborough Canal which adjoins the northeastern boundary of the Everglades Wildlife Management Area in Palm Beach County is not within the management area. This warning was issued today by O. E. Frye, assistant director, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, as the result of some apparent misunderstanding as to the location of the management area boundaries.

Boundary for the north portion of the area is the center line of the levee on the south side of the Hillsborough Canal. The area on the north is in the Loxahatchee National Wildlife Refuge and guns and hunting are prohibited. Hunters will not be allowed to transport or have in their possession any firearms while on the canal. The canal is open for fishing during daylight hours. The use of vehicles is prohibited on the levee.

According to Frye, the boundaries of the management area and the refuge are posted and sportsmen are urged to observe these signs and both state and federal regulations.

Ford ideas so contagious they started a new trend in cars!

If you think today's cars have a lot in common, credit the Ford sketches above. For these ideas sparked a revolution in car design that's reflected wherever you look on the American road. Ford ideas have a habit of being exciting—practical, too. Consider the innovations found only in our '63s. There is Ford Galaxie's smooth new velvet ride. It cost Ford $10 million to bring it to you, but costs you not a penny extra to enjoy. There is Ford's full twice-a-year or 6,000-mile maintenance* schedule that cuts service worry and expense to a minimum. There's a new manual transmission that lets you shift down from second to first without coming to a stop. And for '63, there's the biggest choice of models ever offered—44 in all! Only Ford offers all these advantages now. Other cars will eventually catch up—but if you can't wait, here's a tip. See your Ford Dealer today!

Soil & Crop Science Society Elects Officers, Hears Dr. F. C. Steward

WINTER PARK — Dr. H. C. Harris, a U of F Agricultural Experiment Station's agronomist, has been named president of the Soil and Crop Science Society of Florida.

The objective of the organization is the development and application of the soil and crop sciences to Florida's agriculture. Other officers nominated to positions in the Society include Dr. D. O. Spinks, Gainesville, vice president, and Dr. R. V. ALLISON, Belle Glade, secretary-treasurer. Dr. W. G. Blue, Gainesville, became past president. All of the officers are Agricultural Experiment Station scientists.

The researchers were nominated to their post during the 22nd annual meeting of the Soil and Crop Science Society held recently in Winter Park.

Prof. F. C. Steward of Cornell University, one of the world's most distinguished plant physiologists, was keynote speaker at the meeting. In his address, Prof. Steward explained how a single cell from the fleshy part of a carrot could be grown by special means to a fully developed edible carrot plant.

Every person who heard the after-dinner lecture delivered by Dr. Steward, on "Totipotency and Variation in Cultured Cells" was completely fascinated by the lofty yet gentle and understanding manner in which he practically took the one hundred individuals present on a guided tour thru the complexities of a single living cell — of which each plant and animal has countless millions of a myriad different kinds. The story began, of course, with the joining of two life elements, invisible though they be, capable of unerringly developing into what was predestined before their union to follow, be it a huge animal such as a whale or elephant, a plant tree such as a Sequoia or a lowly plant such as a violet or yet a plain, everyday sort of human being like most of us.

The closing of his inspiring lecture was as humble as the body of it was overpowering at such times as he approached but did not reach into the sublime forces of life itself when he answered in a quiet but firm voice such questions as he himself chose to raise — questions as to why this and why that so intricately involve life itself — "We do not know."

The staff members of the Everglades Experiment Station who attended the annual meeting of the Soil and Crop Science Society of Florida in Winter Park recently were: Dr. W. T. Forcee, Jr., Chemist in Charge; R. J. Allen, Agronomy; R. V. Allison, Fiber; T. W. Casselman, Agricultural Engineer; V. E. Green, Jr., Agronomy; J. R. Iley, Chemistry and Soils; F.
